College student Wai-kwan Lam (林偉堃同學 Computer Science/3) teamed up with 3 other CUHK students to participate in the “SAMSUNG Solve for Tomorrow 2015” App Development Competition organized by SAMSUNG HK with partners including Heep Hong Society (協康會), Hong Kong Science & Technology Parks Corporation (香港科技園公司) and Social Innovation and Entrepreneurship Development Fund (社會創新及創業發展基金). The competition aims to deliver positive social change and help students with special education needs (SEN) through technology. In Hong Kong there are over 8,000 students with SEN waiting for pre-school rehabilitation services for over a year, and special apps for these students will enhance their learning ability during their optimum phase and help them to integrate with the society. The team’s project titled “GalaxyMaze”, targeted at training AD/HD (專注力失調/過動活躍症) children in their three major weaknesses - inattentiveness, hyperkinesia and weak short-term memory, gained the favour of the judges and won the competition as the Champion! As part of the award, they participated in an overseas study tour in late December 2015 to visit the Samsung complex in South Korea and learned about Samsung’s day-to-day operation. Heartiest congratulations from all the Sunnies!
